MEDIA RELEASE

HUME COMMUNITY HOUSING ANNOUNCED AS PARTNER IN TELOPEA REDEVELOPMENT

Hume Community Housing is delighted to be announced as a partner in the Communities Plus redevelopment of Telopea, working with the NSW Government and Frasers Property Australia to transform the north-western suburb into a dynamic integrated community.

The redevelopment includes close to 4,500 new homes, including a target of 1,000 affordable and social housing properties. It will be a master-planned neighbourhood with new amenities, more transport links, a mixture of high-quality housing types and improved access to health, education, and jobs.

Nicola Lemon, CEO, Hume Community Housing, said Hume will deliver tenancy and property management and social wellbeing wrap-around services.

“Hume is deeply rooted in the Telopea community. We have been providing affordable and social housing and services in the area since 2012, so we understand our customers’ needs and what matters most to the local community,” Ms Lemon said.

“Hume has a program of services aligned to the Government’s objectives for social housing, that reflects the Telopea masterplan and responds to the needs of the community, building resilience, and leaving a lasting legacy.”

“We will create a community that fosters our customers’ pride to live there. The revitalisation includes safe and attractive streets, parks, public spaces, and exceptionally well designed, sustainable homes, in addition to a range of wellbeing services, and most importantly, opportunities for people to prosper,” Ms Lemon said.

Hume’s services include youth and seniors’ housing, women and children’s accommodation, education, training and employment services, rental sustainment, and tailored support to transition from social housing and into private rental housing.

“Hume’s understanding of the importance of tailoring solutions and providing a variety of housing options is critical to begin the pathway to successful outcomes,” Ms Lemon said.

“We are delighted with today’s announcement and look forward to partnering with the NSW Government and Frasers Property Australia. Together we share a passion for delivering and supporting a vibrant and welcoming Telopea of the future,” Ms Lemon said.
